World Health Day

World Health Day is celebrated on April 7 which marks the anniversary of the creation of WHO (World Health Organization) which dates back to 1948.

Each year WHO draws attention to a specific health topic of concern to people all over the world. The theme for World Health Day 2025 is “Healthy beginnings, hopeful futures”.

This year’s theme was chosen to urge governments and the health community to ramp up efforts to end preventable maternal and newborn deaths, and to prioritize women’s longer-term health and well-being. The health of mothers and babies is the foundation of healthy families and communities, helping ensure hopeful futures for us all.

Earth Day

April 22 is Earth Day! No matter how you choose to honor nature, make it positive. We need a healthy Planet Earth to thrive, and Planet Earth needs us. Change starts with action and anyone of any background can make a difference. Here are a few actions we can take to make a difference:

1. Say goodbye to single use plastics!
2. Always carry reusable bags!
3. Clean up the local community park!
4. Plant a tree!

We also encourage everyone to wear green and blue for Earth Day!

Look Alike Day

Have you ever seen or been told that someone else looks just like you? We all have a doppelganger or two. Use this day to dress and look like somebody else. It’s perfectly okay to be a copycat!

World Book Day

World Book Day is on April 23rd! We encourage everyone to bring in their favourite book to share with the class!

Congratulations to Bridget for being our staff of the month. Thank you for all your hard work you do in the Preschool 2 classroom and being the glue that keeps the class together! Keep up the fantastic work that you do!

This year, Orthodox Easter and Easter is on April 20th! This means that we will be closed on April 18th and April 21st. We hope everyone has a wonderful weekend with family and we will see everyone again the following Tuesday. Happy Easter from everyone here at Little Scholars!
