Congrats to our staff of the month, Meagan! She does so much for everyone here that we had to appreciate her! From stepping in to support the classrooms to assisting Georgia in cooking, there is nothing she can't do! Congratulations Meagan!

Opposite Day

What a fun day of switcher-roos. There is no better way to celebrate than to not celebrate? We don't really mean that, or do we?

The aim of the day is to have fun all day long saying and wearing exactly the opposite. Wear summer clothes or put them inside out and backward on Jan 24th. The possibilities are endless!

Social Media

If you haven't yet, check out our social media pages! Find us on Facebook and Instagram for updates on current events from around the center! Also, make sure to ask about your child's private class Facebook group to keep up to date on what's happening in your child's classroom!

National Bird Day

The world is filled with a plethora of different species of birds. From cardinals to doves, from parakeets to parrots, nature lovers, bird lovers, and bird watchers across the country annually recognize National Bird Day on January 5th. Looking for ideas on how to celebrate National Bird Day? Well listed below are a great spot to begin.

1. Study some birds

Whether you pick up a birding book like the Sibley Guide to Birds, read a memoir like "H is for Hawk, or even a novel with birds in the title like Maya Angelou's, "I Know Why The Caged Bird Sings", this is the time to brush up on your bird knowledge and reflect on the role of birds in our lives.

2. Watch some birds

By joining the quiet ranks of the country's birdwatchers, you'll discover a vast new hobby and a huge number of quietly contented people who can give you new insight into your place in this fragile world. Talk about a reason to try a new hobby!

Winnie the Pooh Day

One of the cuddliest holidays around is National Winnie the Pooh Day which commemorates author A.A. Milne's birthday. Winnie the Pooh first appeared on the printed page in 1926, together with friends Piglet, Tigger, and Eeyore. All of them were based on toys owned by the author's son, who also featured in the famous stories as Christopher Robin.

Don't forget to dress up as your favourite 100-Acre Woods character
Jan 17th!

Lunar New Year

Often called the Spring Festival or Chinese New Year, is the most important holiday in China and Chinese communities around the world. It is not only celebrated in China. Vietnam, Korea, Malaysia, and Singapore also practice the Lunar New Year holiday. The two-week celebration includes family and friends, feasting and fireworks, parties and parades.

It's also time for us to say goodbye to the year of the Dragon and to say hello to the Year of the Snake. To those who celebrate, Happy Lunar New Years!
